Present owners are Mr. & Mrs. E. R. Allen. It was erected in 1851-52 by a carpenter named Orlando Barker. In 1862, the house was sold to R. A. Horr, who later sold the house to Mr. Dirlam, and Mr. Dirlam sold the house to the present owners.

The exterior of the house was in poor condition, but since the survey was made, the owners have started to repair the house.

It is a two-story with an attic and a one-story wing. The foundation is of stone. Exterior walls built of 4" x 4" studs with 8" x 8" posts at corners and heavy beam construction at floors, regular barn construction. Original siding is walnut, new siding, where repaired, is of red wood. The original roof was of shingles, but since, changed to slate on the two-story, and tin on the one-story section.
